

Welcome to the latest newsletter from angel.london

As we welcome the festive season our retail and service businesses will be in their peak trading period. We are doing all we can to support you by ensuring that the Angel is a clean, safe and welcoming environment in which to shop and socialise.

The festive season creates often unseen pressures for organisations of all shapes and sizes, from handling extra deliveries to employing and training temporary staff.

In this newsletter we give a number of messages to pass on to all staff that will help make your organisation run just a little more efficiently and safely and provide ideas of how to make the most of working in the Angel this festive season. Please do share this newsletter with your colleagues and staff both new and experienced.

With best wishes for the month ahead.

CLEANER: How to reduce personal deliveries to your business this festive season... Click and Collect

Find your nearest collection point

www.clickcollect.london

Did you know that almost 40% of all deliveries to offices in London are now personal items? And this can reach a staggering 65% in the run up to Christmas.

Every individual delivery adds to traffic congestion and pollution in London. The simplest and easiest way to reduce the amount of personal deliveries (in turn making your business more efficient) is to encourage employees to use 'Click and Collect' services. Why not promote the link below to your employees before Black Friday?

SAFER: How to get travel ready for the festive season... use TfL's Travel Tools

As we head towards Christmas public transport across London gets busier with both shoppers and revellers taking to the underground or buses to get to and from where they want to be.

In the festive period travellers can, shall we say, be a little more 'happy' or 'laden-down' than usual. If you are going out with colleagues or friends, take a few minutes to plan your journey (especially home!); TfL provides a range of really useful Travel Tools to help do this. Simply click on the link below to see the tools available.

SAFER: How to stay safe this festive season... remind your colleagues and staff too ACT

Every one of us can play a part to ensure the Angel is a safe place to work, study, live and visit this festive season.

The Met Police County Terrorism Policing unit has launched its seasonal campaign to encourage everyone to remain alert while out and about shopping or enjoying the festive season and to report anything suspicious to the police. Please ensure that your colleagues or staff know how to report anything suspicious - www.gov.uk/ACT
